

Local Matters.

Wednesday Morning, August 10, '59

Arrivals and Departures of Trains.

MEMPHIS AND CHATFIELD.—Depart at 12 A.M. and 2:30 P.M. M. & C. Depart at 12 A.M. and 2:30 P.M. M. & C. Depart at 3:30 A.M. and 4:30 P.M.

MISSISSIPPI AND TENNESSEE.—Trains arrive at 10:30 A.M. & 3 P.M. Depart at 2:30 P.M.

We are indebted to Chas. May, Esq., for late California papers.

We are indebted to the Atlantic Express Company for Cincinnati papers, &c.

NEW ORLEANS.—Genl. G. Smith, of Nashville, and Captain Daniel E. Bassett, of Mississippi, are in the Union House.

Syrup.—The work upon the grade at the wharf was suspended yesterday on account of the rain.

Vended.—It is understood that Mayor Raugh has vetoed the ordinance provided for the appointment of a Secretary of the Board of Aldermen.

The weather was cool from California arrived yesterday evening, bringing dates of the 18th of July, being twenty-two days and three hours old.

Dr. Brown's Review.—The August number of this Review has reached us. It contains a number of considerations of interest, including a description of Memphis, by Mr. Steele.

For late New York and Philadelphia papers, we are indebted to our friend, E. F. Risk, who has just returned from the Eastern cities, whether he has been laying stocks for the fall and winter.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.—During the previous evening, when, as is our custom yesterday morning, a negro playman, on Orleans street, was struck by lightning and instantly killed.

RESCUE OF THE COURT.—The Recorder disposed of nine cases yesterday, and imposed fines of $75, of which sum $15 was paid. Six additional cases were made to the chancery.

MEMPHIS BETTER.—We learn that Mr. J. L. Nelson, the young gentleman who was shot in the affray with J. M. Drake, on Saturday evening last, was much better last evening, and is in little doubt that he will be recovered.

SALES OF OPIOPHORUM.—E. L. Acre, Esq., advertises for sale this morning one of the most valuable plantations in Coshocton county, Miss. It offers means of realizing wealth hardly heard of. Capitalists should not fail to refer to the advertisement.

ACADEMY OF THE YOUNG LADIES.—In another paper, we find the following to be the advertisement of the Young Ladies' Academy of the Visitation, of Fredericksburg, City, Maryland. To a healthy location and excellent teacher is joined very moderate charges. See the advertisement.

AN EXCELLENT ESTABLISHMENT.—At the corner of Main and Market, in the business of South Main street, is a well-furnished grocery establishment, which is kept by Theo. Leonard, who conducts his business on terms of strict honor. He is the work of an enterprising and successful merchant, and is fastened upon a man named J. F. Dippman, the keeper of the Steeple, and has an occupancy of the building, and he was arrested yesterday and placed in jail on the charge of incendiary.

CHARGE OF INCENDIARY.—We give the particulars yesterday of a fire at the corner of Main and Market streets, and expressed the opinion that it was the work of an incendiary. Subsequently, however, it was ascertained upon a man named J. F. Dippman, the keeper of the Steeple, and he was arrested yesterday and placed in jail on the charge of incendiary.

HARD WAS A BAGGAGE.—James Wright, alias Tomp. Wright, was brought before the Recorder yesterday on a charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct, and was condemned. In the meantime he was recognized as the chief of Police of Cincinnati, informing him of Wright's whereabouts, to which a reply was received asking our authorities to hold him subject to a requisition from the Governor of Ohio.

CALAMITY AND RECKONING.—Exquisitus Home was engaged yesterday in disposing of cases in which Mr. J. W. Bonta, of the firm of Potts & Bonta, was interested. Mr. Bonta was himself arrested for obtaining $500 from Harmon Keebler under false pretenses, and Jas. Davis and R. R. Stenger were arrested at the complaint of Bonta, for obtaining $400, and the value of $1000 in gold, to defraud the city of its due payment. All orders for the same circumstances were sent to the chief of Police of Cincinnati, who replied that a reply was received asking our authorities to hold him subject to a requisition from the Governor of Ohio.

THEIR APPRAISEMENT.—In his last annual message to the Board of Aldermen, the Mayor gave the financial condition of the city to the importance of establishing a water-work system.

The Board, however, deemed it proper to give the matter no consideration, open the ground that the present condition of the finances of the city were not worth the expense of a water-work system.

A large sum of money was expended in the establishment of sewer-works, and yet the Board have been penny-wise and pound foolish enough to disregard the suggestion of the Mayor.

PENNY WISDOM.—In his last annual message to the Board of Aldermen, the Mayor gave the financial condition of the city to the importance of establishing a water-work system.

The Board, however, deemed it proper to give the matter no consideration, open the ground that the present condition of the finances of the city were not worth the expense of a water-work system.

A large sum of money was expended in the establishment of sewer-works, and yet the Board have been penny-wise and pound foolish enough to disregard the suggestion of the Mayor.

THEIR APPRAISEMENT.—In his last annual message to the Board of Aldermen, the Mayor gave the financial condition of the city to the importance of establishing a water-work system.

The Board, however, deemed it proper to give the matter no consideration, open the ground that the present condition of the finances of the city were not worth the expense of a water-work system.

A large sum of money was expended in the establishment of sewer-works, and yet the Board have been penny-wise and pound foolish enough to disregard the suggestion of the Mayor.

THEIR APPRAISEMENT.—In his last annual message to the Board of Aldermen, the Mayor gave the financial condition of the city to the importance of establishing a water-work system.

The Board, however, deemed it proper to give the matter no consideration, open the ground that the present condition of the finances of the city were not worth the expense of a water-work system.

A large sum of money was expended in the establishment of sewer-works, and yet the Board have been penny-wise and pound foolish enough to disregard the suggestion of the Mayor.

THEIR APPRAISEMENT.—In his last annual message to the Board of Aldermen, the Mayor gave the financial condition of the city to the importance of establishing a water-work system.

The Board, however, deemed it proper to give the matter no consideration, open the ground that the present condition of the finances of the city were not worth the expense of a water-work system.

A large sum of money was expended in the establishment of sewer-works, and yet the Board have been penny-wise and pound foolish enough to disregard the suggestion of the Mayor.

THEIR APPRAISEMENT.—In his last annual message to the Board of Aldermen, the Mayor gave the financial condition of the city to the importance of establishing a water-work system.

The Board, however, deemed it proper to give the matter no consideration, open the ground that the present condition of the finances of the city were not worth the expense of a water-work system.

A large sum of money was expended in the establishment of sewer-works, and yet the Board have been penny-wise and pound foolish enough to disregard the suggestion of the Mayor.

THEIR APPRAISEMENT.—In his last annual message to the Board of Aldermen, the Mayor gave the financial condition of the city to the importance of establishing a water-work system.

The Board, however, deemed it proper to give the matter no consideration, open the ground that the present condition of the finances of the city were not worth the expense of a water-work system.

A large sum of money was expended in the establishment of sewer-works, and yet the Board have been penny-wise and pound foolish enough to disregard the suggestion of the Mayor.

THEIR APPRAISEMENT.—In his last annual message to the Board of Aldermen, the Mayor gave the financial condition of the city to the importance of establishing a water-work system.

The Board, however, deemed it proper to give the matter no consideration, open the ground that the present condition of the finances of the city were not worth the expense of a water-work system.

A large sum of money was expended in the establishment of sewer-works, and yet the Board have been penny-wise and pound foolish enough to disregard the suggestion of the Mayor.

THEIR APPRAISEMENT.—In his last annual message to the Board of Aldermen, the Mayor gave the financial condition of the city to the importance of establishing a water-work system.

The Board, however, deemed it proper to give the matter no consideration, open the ground that the present condition of the finances of the city were not worth the expense of a water-work system.

A large sum of money was expended in the establishment of sewer-works, and yet the Board have been penny-wise and pound foolish enough to disregard the suggestion of the Mayor.

THEIR APPRAISEMENT.—In his last annual message to the Board of Aldermen, the Mayor gave the financial condition of the city to the importance of establishing a water-work system.

The Board, however, deemed it proper to give the matter no consideration, open the ground that the present condition of the finances of the city were not worth the expense of a water-work system.

A large sum of money was expended in the establishment of sewer-works, and yet the Board have been penny-wise and pound foolish enough to disregard the suggestion of the Mayor.

THEIR APPRAISEMENT.—In his last annual message to the Board of Aldermen, the Mayor gave the financial condition of the city to the importance of establishing a water-work system.

The Board, however, deemed it proper to give the matter no consideration, open the ground that the present condition of the finances of the city were not worth the expense of a water-work system.

A large sum of money was expended in the establishment of sewer-works, and yet the Board have been penny-wise and pound foolish enough to disregard the suggestion of the Mayor.

THEIR APPRAISEMENT.—In his last annual message to the Board of Aldermen, the Mayor gave the financial condition of the city to the importance of establishing a water-work system.

The Board, however, deemed it proper to give the matter no consideration, open the ground that the present condition of the finances of the city were not worth the expense of a water-work system.

A large sum of money was expended in the establishment of sewer-works, and yet the Board have been penny-wise and pound foolish enough to disregard the suggestion of the Mayor.

THEIR APPRAISEMENT.—In his last annual message to the Board of Aldermen, the Mayor gave the financial condition of the city to the importance of establishing a water-work system.

The Board, however, deemed it proper to give the matter no consideration, open the ground that the present condition of the finances of the city were not worth the expense of a water-work system.

A large sum of money was expended in the establishment of sewer-works, and yet the Board have been penny-wise and pound foolish enough to disregard the suggestion of the Mayor.

THEIR APPRAISEMENT.—In his last annual message to the Board of Aldermen, the Mayor gave the financial condition of the city to the importance of establishing a water-work system.

The Board, however, deemed it proper to give the matter no consideration, open the ground that the present condition of the finances of the city were not worth the expense of a water-work system.

A large sum of money was expended in the establishment of sewer-works, and yet the Board have been penny-wise and pound foolish enough to disregard the suggestion of the Mayor.

THEIR APPRAISEMENT.—In his last annual message to the Board of Aldermen, the Mayor gave the financial condition of the city to the importance of establishing a water-work system.

The Board, however, deemed it proper to give the matter no consideration, open the ground that the present condition of the finances of the city were not worth the expense of a water-work system.

A large sum of money was expended in the establishment of sewer-works, and yet the Board have been penny-wise and pound foolish enough to disregard the suggestion of the Mayor.

THEIR APPRAISEMENT.—In his last annual message to the Board of Aldermen, the Mayor gave the financial condition of the city to the importance of establishing a water-work system.

The Board, however, deemed it proper to give the matter no consideration, open the ground that the present condition of the finances of the city were not worth the expense of a water-work system.

A large sum of money was expended in the establishment of sewer-works, and yet the Board have been penny-wise and pound foolish enough to disregard the suggestion of the Mayor.

THEIR APPRAISEMENT.—In his last annual message to the Board of Aldermen, the Mayor gave the financial condition of the city to the importance of establishing a water-work system.

The Board, however, deemed it proper to give the matter no consideration, open the ground that the present condition of the finances of the city were not worth the expense of a water-work system.

A large sum of money was expended in the establishment of sewer-works, and yet the Board have been penny-wise and pound foolish enough to disregard the suggestion of the Mayor.

THEIR APPRAISEMENT.—In his last annual message to the Board of Aldermen, the Mayor gave the financial condition of the city to the importance of establishing a water-work system.

The Board, however, deemed it proper to give the matter no consideration, open the ground that the present condition of the finances of the city were not worth the expense of a water-work system.

A large sum of money was expended in the establishment of sewer-works, and yet the Board have been penny-wise and pound foolish enough to disregard the suggestion of the Mayor.

THEIR APPRAISEMENT.—In his last annual message to the Board of Aldermen, the Mayor gave the financial condition of the city to the importance of establishing a water-work system.

The Board, however, deemed it proper to give the matter no consideration, open the ground that the present condition of the finances of the city were not worth the expense of a water-work system.

A large sum of money was expended in the establishment of sewer-works, and yet the Board have been penny-wise and pound foolish enough to disregard the suggestion of the Mayor.

THEIR APPRAISEMENT.—In his last annual message to the Board of Aldermen, the Mayor gave the financial condition of the city to the importance of establishing a water-work system.

The Board, however, deemed it proper to give the matter no consideration, open the ground that the present condition of the finances of the city were not worth the expense of a water-work system.

A large sum of money was expended in the establishment of sewer-works, and yet the Board have been penny-wise and pound foolish enough to disregard the suggestion of the Mayor.

THEIR APPRAISEMENT.—In his last annual message to the Board of Aldermen, the Mayor gave the financial condition of the city to the importance of establishing a water-work system.

The Board, however, deemed it proper to give the matter no consideration, open the ground that the present condition of the finances of the city were not worth the expense of a water-work system.

A large sum of money was expended in the establishment of sewer-works, and yet the Board have been penny-wise and pound foolish enough to disregard the suggestion of the Mayor.

THEIR APPRAISEMENT.—In his last annual message to the Board of Aldermen, the Mayor gave the financial condition of the city to the importance of establishing a water-work system.

The Board, however, deemed it proper to give the matter no consideration, open the ground that the present condition of the finances of the city were not worth the expense of a water-work system.

A large sum of money was expended in the establishment of sewer-works, and yet the Board have been penny-wise and pound foolish enough to disregard the suggestion of the Mayor.

THEIR APPRAISEMENT.—In his last annual message to the Board of Aldermen, the Mayor gave the financial condition of the city to the importance of establishing a water-work system.

The Board, however, deemed it proper to give the matter no consideration, open the ground that the present condition of the finances of the city were not worth the expense of a water-work system.

A large sum of money was expended in the establishment of sewer-works, and yet the Board have been penny-wise and pound foolish enough to disregard the suggestion of the Mayor.

THEIR APPRAISEMENT.—In his last annual message to the Board of Aldermen, the Mayor gave the financial condition of the city to the importance of establishing a water-work system.

The Board, however, deemed it proper to give the matter no consideration, open the ground that the present condition of the finances of the city were not worth the expense of a water-work system.

A large sum of money was expended in the establishment of sewer-works, and yet the Board have been penny-wise and pound foolish enough to disregard the suggestion of the Mayor.

THEIR APPRAISEMENT.—In his last annual message to the Board of Aldermen, the Mayor gave the financial condition of the city to the importance of establishing a water-work system.

The Board, however, deemed it proper to give the matter no consideration, open the ground that the present condition of the finances of the city were not worth the expense of a water-work system.

A large sum of money was expended in the establishment of sewer-works, and yet the Board have been penny-wise and pound foolish enough to disregard the suggestion of the Mayor.

THEIR APPRAISEMENT.—In his last annual message to the Board of Aldermen, the Mayor gave the financial condition of the city to the importance of establishing a water-work system.

The Board, however, deemed it proper to give the matter no consideration, open the ground that the present condition of the finances of the city were not worth the expense of a water-work system.

A large sum of money was expended in the establishment of sewer-works, and yet the Board have been penny-wise and pound foolish enough to disregard the suggestion of the Mayor.

THEIR APPRAISEMENT.—In his last annual message to the Board of Aldermen, the Mayor gave the financial condition of the city to the importance of establishing a water-work system.

The Board, however, deemed it proper to give the matter no consideration, open the ground that the present condition of the finances of the city were not worth the expense of a water-work system.

A large sum of money was expended in the establishment of sewer-works, and yet the Board have been penny-wise and pound foolish enough to disregard the suggestion of the Mayor.

THEIR APPRAISEMENT.—In his last annual message to the Board of Aldermen, the Mayor gave the financial condition of the city to the importance of establishing a water-work system.

The Board, however, deemed it proper to give the matter no consideration, open the ground that the present condition of the finances of the city were not worth the expense of a water-work system.

A large sum of money was expended in the establishment of sewer-works, and yet the Board have been penny-wise and pound foolish enough to disregard the suggestion of the Mayor.

THEIR APPRAISEMENT.—In his last annual message to the Board of Aldermen, the Mayor gave the financial condition of the city to the importance of establishing a water-work system.

The Board, however, deemed it proper to give the matter no consideration, open the ground that the present condition of the finances of the city were not worth the expense of a water-work system.

A large sum of money was expended in the establishment of sewer-works, and yet the Board have been penny-wise and pound foolish enough to disregard the suggestion of the Mayor.

THEIR APPRAISEMENT.—In his last annual message to the Board of Aldermen, the Mayor gave the financial condition of the city to the importance of establishing a water-work system.

The Board, however, deemed it proper to give the matter no consideration, open the ground that the present condition of the finances of the city were not worth the expense of a water-work system.

A large sum of money was expended in the establishment of sewer-works, and yet the Board have been penny-wise and pound foolish enough to disregard the suggestion of the Mayor.

THEIR APPRAISEMENT.—In his last annual message to the Board of Aldermen, the Mayor gave the financial condition of the city to the importance of establishing a water-work system.

The Board, however, deemed it proper to give the matter no consideration, open the ground that the present condition of the finances of the city were not worth the expense of a water-work system.